

Chapter 12A

Options on Soybean Oil Futures

12A00. SCOPE OF CHAPTER

This chapter is limited in application to put and call options on Soybean Oil futures contracts. In addition to the rules of this chapter, transactions in options on Soybean Oil futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange insofar as applicable.

12A01. OPTIONS CHARACTERISTICS

12A01.A. Contract Months

Trading may be conducted in the nearby Soybean Oil futures options contract month and any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Soybean Oil futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract.

12A01.B. Trading Unit

One 60,000 pound Soybean Oil futures contract of a specified contract month.

12A01.C. Minimum Fluctuations

The premium for Soybean Oil futures options shall be in multiples of five thousandths (5/1000) of one cent per pound of a 60,000 pound Soybean Oil futures contract which shall equal $3.00 per contract.

However, a position may be initiated or liquidated in Soybean Oil futures options at a premium ranging from $1.00 to $2.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract.

12A01.D. Trading Hours

The hours of trading of options on Soybean Oil futures contracts shall be determined by the Exchange. Soybean Oil futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such other manner as determined by the Exchange.

On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Soybean Oil futures options shall be closed with a public call, made strike price by strike price, immediately following the close of the open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean Oil futures contract.

12A01.E. Exercise Prices¹

Trading shall be conducted for put and call options, including standard, serial, and weekly options, with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of one half cent per pound per Soybean Oil futures contract as follows:

1.

a. At the commencement of trading for each option contract, the Exchange shall list a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean Oil futures contract (the at-the-money strike), and strikes in a range of 50 percent above and below the at-the-money strike. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the at-the-money strike shall be the larger of the two.

b. Over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that all strikes within 50 percent of the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures contract are listed.

2. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. Upon demand and at the discretion of the Exchange, new out-of-current-range strike prices at regularly defined intervals may be added for trading on as soon as possible basis. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. As new one half cent strikes are added, existing strikes outside the newly determined strike ranges without open interest may be de-listed.

12A01.F. Position Limits

In accordance with Rule 559, Position Limits and Exemptions, no person shall own or control

Specifications shall be fixed as of the first day of trading of a contract except that all options must conform to government regulations in force at the time of exercise. If the U.S. government, an agency, or duly constituted body thereof issues an order, ruling, directive, or law inconsistent with these rules, such order, ruling, directive, or law shall be construed to become part of the rules and all open and new options contracts shall be subject to such government orders.
