Stock Index Price Limits to be Revised Effective for 1st Quarter 2009

Exchange price limit rules for domestic stock index futures* call for a quarterly re-assessment of price limits based on prevailing market prices. Limits are calculated quarterly at the close of business on the day preceding the commencement of a new calendar quarter. Thus, new limits shall become effective with the commencement of Electronic Trading Hours (ETH) on Thursday, January 1st at 5:00 p.m. The revised limits shall be applicable throughout the first calendar quarter of 2009.

If limits were calculated using data collected through Monday, December 22, price limits for the first calendar quarter of 2009 would be as set forth below. The official calculation will occur at the close of business on Wednesday, December 31. Details of the revised limits will appear on the Exchange's Web site at www.cmegroup.com shortly thereafter, and a Special Executive Report will appear on the Exchange floor before the opening of Regular Trading Hours (RTH) on Friday, January 2. Pro-forma limits and bands may be calculated as follows ...
