(b)	the rationale for adopting the benchmark methodology and procedures for the review and approval of the methodology;	The aim of the BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks is to provide a benchmark based on the trading activity for on-the-run US Treasuries. BMR / RTS	BMR Benchmark Statement requirement	Administrator's statement
(c)	The criteria and procedures used to determine the benchmark, including a description of the input data, the priority given to different types of input data, the minimum data needed to determine a benchmark, the use of any models or methods of extrapolation and any procedure for rebalancing the constituents of a benchmark's index;	The calculation is based on a waterfall methodology including transactions and executable orders from the BrokerTec CLOB. A target volume is set for each treasury bond tenor and observation window. If transaction volumes fail to meet or exceed the target volume, the benchmark will utilise bids and asks from the top five levels of the order book.
(d)	the controls and rules that govern any exercise of judgement or discretion by the administrator or any contributors, to ensure consistency in the use of such judgement or discretion;	No expert judgement is applied in the daily determination of the BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks.
(e)	the procedures which govern the determination of the benchmark in periods of stress or periods where transaction data sources may be insufficient, inaccurate or unreliable and the potential limitations of the benchmark in such periods;	The methodology includes contingency measures to deal with determination of the Benchmarks in periods of stress or periods where transaction data sources may be insufficient, inaccurate or unreliable. In a circumstance where there is a complete lack of trading activity, the Benchmarks will not be published.
(f)	the procedures for dealing with errors in input data or in the determination of the benchmark, including when a redetermination of the benchmark is required; and	The Administrator has in place operating procedures to ensure the integrity of input data and prompt correction of calculation errors, including re-publication of the Benchmark. These are facilitated through Chicago Mercantile Exchange Inc., who acts as calculation agent to the Administrator for the Benchmarks.
(g)	the identification of potential limitations of the benchmark, including its operation in illiquid or fragmented markets and the possible concentration of inputs.	The methodology relies on transactions and executable orders for on-the-run US Treasuries on the BrokerTec CLOB. The Administrator continuously monitors liquidity of the underlying market and reports back to the Oversight Committee to assess whether the input data are sufficient.
RTS 1(1)	The benchmark statement shall state:
(a)	the date of publication of the statement and, where applicable, the date of its last update;	Please see the beginning of this document for the date of publication and last update.
(b)	where available, the international securities identification number (ISIN) of the benchmark or benchmarks; alternatively, for a family of benchmarks, the statement	Not applicable to these Benchmarks

	may provide details of where the ISINs are publicly accessible free of charge;
(c)	whether the benchmark, or any benchmark in the family of benchmarks, is determined using contributions of input data;	The BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks are not determined using contributions.
(d)	whether the benchmark or any benchmark in the family of benchmarks qualifies as one of the types of benchmarks listed under Title III of Regulation (EU) 2016/1011, including the specific provision by virtue of which the benchmark qualifies as that type.	The BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks do not qualify as one of the types of benchmarks listed under Title III of the BMR.
RTS 1(2)	In defining the market or economic reality, the benchmark statement shall include at least the following information:
(a)	a general description of the market or economic reality;	The BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks provide a measure for the price and yield of 2, 3, 5, 7, 10, and 30 Year on-the-run US Treasury bonds.
(b)	the geographical boundaries, if any, of the market or economic reality;	The BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks reflect the rates for on-the-run US Treasuries in the USA.
(c)	any other information that the administrator reasonably considers to be relevant or useful to help users or potential users of the benchmark to understand the relevant features of the market or economic reality, including at least the following elements insofar as reliable data on these elements is available: (i) information on actual or potential participants in the market; (ii) an indication of the size of the market or economic reality.	The BrokerTec CLOB is open to a large number of market participants, ensuring an elevated level of liquidity and market depth. All customer segments are represented including proprietary trading groups, banks, hedge funds and asset managers. In 2022, over $10 billion of US Treasuries were traded on average each day on the BrokerTec CLOB.
RTS 1(3)	In defining the potential limitations of the benchmark and the circumstances in which the measurement of the market or economic reality may become unreliable, the benchmark statement shall include at least:
(a)	a description of the circumstances in which the administrator would lack sufficient input data to determine the benchmark in accordance with the methodology.	Input data may become insufficient if dealers were unwilling to transact US Treasuries on the BrokerTec CLOB as might occur in times of economic uncertainty, or alternatively if the BrokerTec CLOB were to suffer an unexpected closure or outage.
(b)	where relevant, a description of instances when the accuracy and reliability of the methodology used for determining the benchmark can no longer be ensured, such as when the administrator deems the liquidity in the underlying market as insufficient;	The accuracy and reliability of the Benchmarks could no longer be ensured in the event of continued insufficient liquidity in the underlying market for on-the-run US Treasuries. To that extent, the Administrator

		regularly reviews transacted volumes and will report any concern regarding the liquidity of the underlying market to the Oversight Committee.
(c)	any other information that the administrator reasonably considers to be relevant or useful to help users and potential users to understand the circumstances in which the measurement of the market or economic reality may become unreliable, including a description of what might constitute an exceptional market event.	The Benchmarks rely on the regular functioning of the underlying US Treasuries; reliable representation of underlying markets could be severely affected if US Treasury markets were not operating due to severe disruptions or regulatory limitations to their normal functioning.
RTS 1(4)	In specifying the controls and rules that govern any exercise of judgement or discretion by the administrator or any contributors in calculating the benchmark or benchmarks, the benchmark statement shall include an outline of each step of the process for any ex post evaluation of the use of discretion, together with a clear indication of the position of any person(s) responsible for carrying out the evaluations.	No expert judgement is applied in the daily determination of the BrokerTec US Treasury Benchmarks.
RTS 1(5)	In specifying the procedures for review of the methodology, the benchmark statement shall at least outline the procedures for public consultation on any material changes to the methodology.	The methodology provides that the Administrator will consult with stakeholders on material changes to the methodology. Consultation will ordinarily consist of publishing of proposals, providing stakeholders with a reasonable time to respond and publishing actions as a result of the consultation. In addition, the Oversight Committee can request the Administrator to consult on any change as appropriate.
