<sup>1</sup> With the end of the US dollar LIBOR panel, Three Month US dollar LIBOR will cease to be “representative” of the underlying market or economic reality following publication on 30 June 2023. While Three Month US dollar LIBOR may continue to be published after that date, such rate would be “non-representative” utilizing a “synthetic” methodology, to be determined by the UK Financial Conduct Authority, and usage of such rate may be restricted, See: <https://www.fca.org.uk/publication/consultation/cp22-11.pdf>
