Brazilian Real Futures March Quarterly Cycle Contract Months Listed for Trading on CME Globex® Out to Ten Years, Effective Tuesday, March 22, 2011, for Trade Date of Wednesday, March 23, 2011

CME Group announces effective at 5:00 PM Central Time on Tuesday, March 22, 2011, for the trade date of Wednesday, March 23, 2011, twenty (20) additional Brazilian real futures contract months in the March, June, September and December quarterly cycle will be listed for trading on CME Globex® so that a total of 40 March quarterly cycle months will always be listed (i.e., March cycle maturities out ten years in addition to the current 12 consecutive contract month listings, which include the nearby four March cycle months). The exchange is responding to customer interest in trading more deferred contract months in the Brazilian real futures. Brazilian real options on futures listings will be unchanged.

More March Cycle Contract Month Listings: The following table illustrates the current and new Brazilian real futures listed months. March cycle months for years 6 through 10 will be added.

A new Brazilian real futures contract month, either the next March quarterly cycle month not yet listed or the next non-March quarterly cycle "serial month" not yet listed, will be added for trading on the business day following the termination of trading for the nearby analogous contract month. For example, on Friday, April 1, 2011, the business day following the Monday, March 31, 2011, termination for the nearby April 2011 Brazilian real futures contract month, CME will list the April 2012 Brazilian real futures contract month for trading. Similarly, on Wednesday, June 1, 2011, the business day following the Tuesday, May 31, 2011, termination for the nearby June 2011 quarterly Brazilian real futures contract, CME will list the June 2021 Brazilian real futures contract month for trading on CME Globex.
