Re: Owensboro Grain Company , LLC Soybean Meal Facility

The Exchange has been notified by Owensboro Grain Company, the operator of a Soybean Meal regular shipping plant, that its regular facility in Owensboro, Kentucky has been damaged by severe weather. As a result of the damage, the facility's ability to process Soybean Meal has been hindered.

Pursuant to CBOT Regulation 1290.01 G (6), in the event the facility is unable to meet load out demands against its outstanding certificates, the facility will be obligated to arrange for load-out at another regular facility and to compensate the holder for any increase in transportation costs resulting from the change in the location of the shipping plant.
