ADVISORY #: 05-144

SUBJECT: Week 10 Average Pricing System Final Testing Cycles.

This advisory contains information about the next week of firm testing for the new Average Pricing System (APS). CME SLEDS and CME EFPs will be available to test as well. There will be two cycles available on Tuesday, July 19, 2005 and Thursday, July 21, 2005. Attached are test scripts locations, a schedule of the test dates and trade entry times available to testing firms.

Scope of Test

The test will focus on CME APS transactions.

Tuesday, July 19, 2005

- Cycle 19 - Trade date July 19, 2005, will begin at 9:00 a.m. and end at 2:00 p.m.

Thursday, July 21, 2005

- Cycle 20 - Trade date July 21, 2005 will begin at 9:00 a.m. end at 2:00 p.m.

Firms are required to submit or enter test trades as indicated on the published test scripts. Firms also have the option to enter non-scripted trades into clearing if they choose. The scripts have been designed to allow firms to become familiar with the user interfaces that will be utilized with the new APS system functions. The CME SLED and CME EFP Systems will also be available should firms wish to execute tests on the system.

We strongly encourage firms to use these testing opportunities to ensure that they can:

- Submit APS trades from their back office systems or via the trade entry systems
- Load either the APS FIXML confirmation messages or the APS routing file to their bookkeeping systems.
- Confirm that Give-up API messages can be processed given that the order number will no longer be truncated to 4 places.
- Firms will have some Electronic trades in the environment and should confirm that the new Operator ID field in the Give-up and FIXML APIs will not adversely affect their systems.
- Balance books to clearing.

- Enter APS trades
- Receive FIXML confirm messages for these trades or the APS routing file
