Listing Date	December 7, 2009
Contract Name	Dow Jones UBS Commodity Index Swap NP 09-24
Description	Positions in the swap behave like a cash-settled future, except that there is a daily value adjustment cash flow. This cash flow is in addition to the normal mark-to-market amount, i.e., the settlement variation. The daily value adjustment is also called simply the "daily adjustment", and can be thought of as approximating the financing cost associated with a daily roll-over of a spot obligation. The rate for determining the daily adjustment is made available via SPAN and the CME Group FTP site in several formats.
