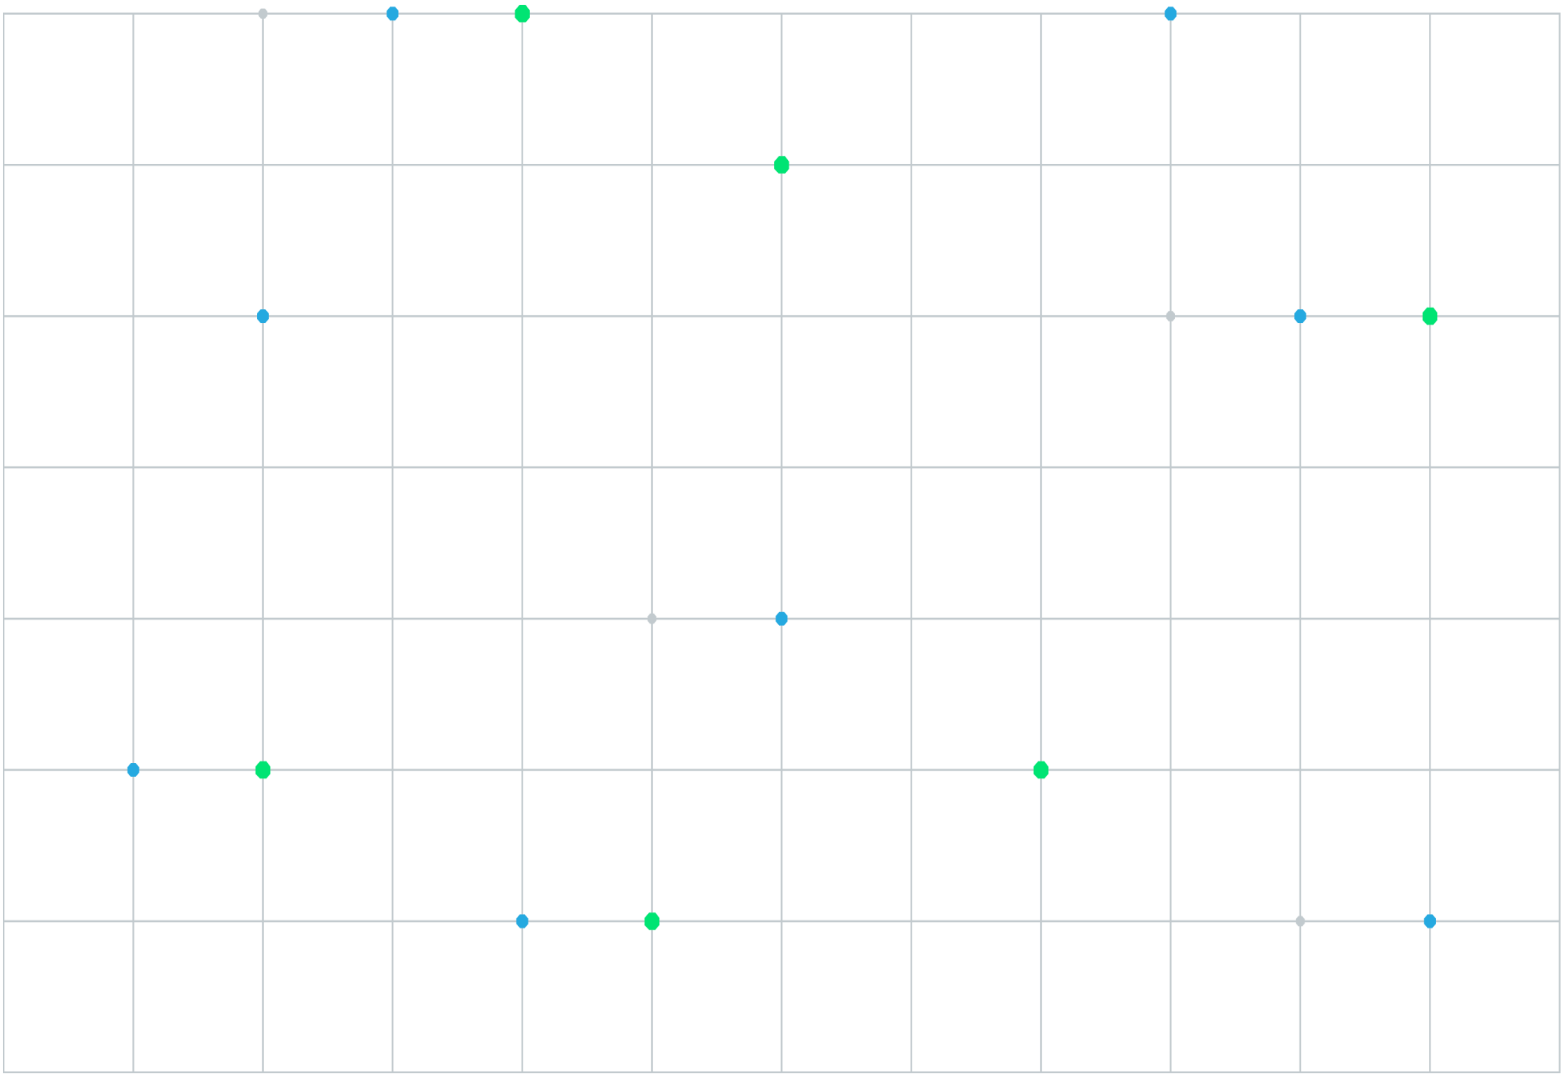
CME ClearView User Manual

30 May 2025



Neither futures trading nor swaps trading are suitable for all investors, and each involves the risk of loss. Swaps trading should only be undertaken by investors who are Eligible Contract Participants (ECPs) within the meaning of Section 1a(18) of the Commodity Exchange Act. Futures and swaps each are leveraged investments and, because only a percentage of a contract's value is required to trade, it is possible to lose more than the amount of money deposited for either a futures or swaps position. Therefore, traders should only use funds that they can afford to lose without affecting their lifestyles and only a portion of those funds should be devoted to any one trade because traders cannot expect to profit on every trade. All examples discussed are hypothetical situations, used for explanation purposes only, and should not be considered investment advice or the results of actual market experience.

Getting Started

CME ClearView is a tool that determines the status of some CME Group file transmissions and reports, including SPAN files, margin reports, trade data, etc. The system provides an ETA (estimated time of arrival) for those reports that are currently in progress. ClearView is accessible from 1pm CST on Sunday to midnight on Friday.

Status reports may include:

- Fees - Fee reports by asset class
- Futures - Futures & Options reports: exercise/assignments, positions, deliveries
- IRS - Interest Rate Swaps reports: trades/positions, prices, margins
- Prices - Settlement price files for futures
- SPAN - SPAN risk parameter files
- Settlement - Settlement variation/margin and asset numbers
- Intraday - Intraday-specific reports for CME Europe & US
